

Sponsorship overview

Hackathons are invention marathons. Programmers, designers, builders, and creative minds come together to learn, build, and share their ideas over an intense weekend.

ETHack is a student-run hackathon taking place at ETH Zurich on September 12-13, 2026. Under the theme “hack for good”, students will work on impactful solutions addressing real-world challenges across technology, sustainability, society, and beyond.

During the weekend, 100 students will turn ideas into prototypes, collaborate in interdisciplinary teams, and present their projects to a jury. We will award prizes to the most promising and impactful creations.

Your company can connect with motivated and purpose-driven students by sharing your latest APIs, tools, datasets, or challenges. Host a talk, propose a challenge around your ecosystem, mentor teams throughout the weekend, and meet talented students who are eager to build technology with a positive impact.

In addition to the sponsorship tiers in this document, we are open to custom add-ons such as a branded mini-event, a meal or coffee break with your branding, custom merchandise for participants with your logo and ours, or any other creative idea you may have. Feel free to contact us!
